

Become an MS Brain Health champion

Spread the message that time matters in MS, and help drive the change needed to create a better future for people with MS and their families.

MS Brain Health champions are people who share our vision and want to promote best practice in the management of MS. We welcome healthcare professionals, but you don't have to be a healthcare professional to be a champion.

Champions have the opportunity to represent the MS Brain Health initiative, to talk about MS Brain Health at local and regional meetings and to help to bring about real change in the management of MS in their country.

If you want to help spread the message that time matters in MS in your country, please sign-up below. We will keep you up-to-date with the latest news and MS Brain Health resources via our regular newsletter, and we may share your name with other healthcare professionals or people who request a local speaker.

Sign up to become a champion by clicking on the link below:

<https://www.msbrainhealth.org/get-involved/champions-sign-up/>

If you are organizing an event and would like to get in contact with an MS Brain Health champion, please send information about your event to info@msbrainhealth.org.